I am a partner in our commercial team, working with clients to help them navigate through the complexities of their commercial contracts to ensure legal risk is managed and contracts are optimised.

With over 20 years' experience I have become a key advisor to many of my longstanding clients, helping to ensure that they get the help that they need from us, whatever that may be.

I have a particular focus and expertise in advising clients in the technology and media space, however the business acumen and commercial experience I have gained as a commercial contracts lawyer means that my clients rely on me on a much broader range of issues, and I act as not only their legal but trusted commercial advisor.

I am ranked in the leading legal directory, Chambers and Partners 2024.
