I am a senior associate specialising in high value residential and rural property, including country homes, landed estates and agricultural holdings. Over the past few years, I have led or been involved in some of the firm's highest-value and most complex landed estate and rural property matters.

Clients value my clear and practical advice and my ability to manage transactions efficiently from start to finish. I also work closely with colleagues across our wider property, development, planning, corporate and private wealth teams to provide coordinated support where development, planning, tax or succession issues arise.

I maintain strong relationships with rural agents, surveyors, accountants and other professionals to ensure transactions progress smoothly, particularly where matters are complex or time sensitive.

Areas of expertise:

- Sales, purchases and remortgages
- Agricultural property and landed estates
- High value residential property and country homes
- Farm business tenancies and grazing arrangements
- First registrations and complex titles

Qualifications and memberships

- Admitted as a solicitor in September 2022
