I am a partner in the construction team where clients appreciate my calm and practical approach to facilitating successful development projects.

I advise on all aspects of non-contentious construction matters, covering the full range of construction and engineering projects for a diverse range of clients at every stage of the supply chain, including property developers, institutions, public authorities, contractors, consultants and funders.

I specialise in all forms of procurement route and the drafting of all forms of construction documentation for projects including mixed-use regeneration schemes, infrastructure projects, residential developments, exhibition centres and arts projects, industrial units, shopping centres and the maintenance of other property portfolios.

I am ranked in the leading legal directory, Chambers and Partners 2024.
