I am a legal director in our commercial real estate team and my principal areas of work are buying, selling and leasing commercial property.

I am a commercial real estate generalist who acts for both landlords and tenants, sellers and buyers but my primary focus is as an advisor to our occupier clients and in particular those from overseas looking to establish a presence in the UK. My experience also covers commercial and residential property development.

By identifying the common ground between parties as soon as possible I aim to find the simplest means of reaching agreement between them.
