I am a partner in the employment team. I advise a wide range of clients, from large companies to senior executives on all aspects of employment law.

I have a particular specialism in contentious work, I deal with employment litigation in both the employment tribunal and the High Court. I have recently dealt with discrimination and whistleblowing claims in the employment tribunal and restrictive covenant and confidentiality cases in the High Court.

I also regularly advise companies on HR issues such as managing disciplinary and grievance procedures, redundancy advice, drafting contracts of employment and director's service agreements, restrictive covenants and team moves.

I advise senior executives on managed exits and settlement agreements.

Areas of expertise:

- Restrictive covenants, team moves and High Court litigation
- Unfair dismissal, discrimination and whistleblowing claims at the employment tribunal
- Managing disciplinary and grievance procedures, sickness absence and family leave
- Redundancy advice
- Senior executive terminations and boardroom disputes
- Settlement agreements

Qualifications and memberships

- Admitted as a solicitor in October 2002
- Employment Lawyers Association (ELA)
