I'm a partner in the private wealth team where I provide practical and straightforward advice in order to navigate my clients through complex legal areas.

I advise individuals, trustees, attorneys and executors on a wide range of matters.

My advice is always clear and jargon-free, so as to help my clients understand their options and achieve their objectives in a timely manner.

I have a particular specialism in the law around mental capacity, including planning to avoid potential issues arising from a loss of capacity as well as managing those issues where they have arisen.

Areas of expertise:

- Estate and succession planning
- Inheritance tax
- Wills
- Formation and administration of trusts
- Powers of attorney
- Advice on care fee planning and funding applications
- Court of Protection applications
- General management of financial affairs
- Charities
- Administration of Estates

Qualifications and memberships

- Admitted as a solicitor in October 2011
- STEP Diploma in Trusts and Estates (England & Wales)

- Member of the STEP Mental Capacity Special Interest Group
