

Cripps advise shareholders of IMAS Corporate Finance on their sale to MarshBerry

Cripps are delighted to have advised the partners of IMAS Corporate Finance on their sale to MarshBerry, a global M&A advisory firm for insurance brokers and wealth management firms.

Founded in 1992 and owned by its partners, IMAS is a corporate advisory firm specialising in the United Kingdom financial services sector. IMAS has completed over 250 transactions in the last two decades within the insurance and wealth segments working with major corporates, management teams, and owner-managers on sales, buyouts / buyins, growth capital raising and acquisitions.

Founded in 1981, MarshBerry now has regional offices across the United States, in the Netherlands, Germany, France and the United Kingdom. The partnership further builds its global reach while continuing to offer unmatched local expertise in North America and Europe.

Another successful transaction to bolster our impressive credentials acting for clients in the financial services and insurance sector. The Cripps team advising on the acquisition was led by corporate partner Lowri Jones supported by Jade Hallam and worked closely alongside Parisi Tax advisors to the Sellers.

Commenting on the legal services provided, John Nisbet of IMAS Corporate Finance, commented, "We are grateful for the support of Lowri, Jade and the team at Cripps which led to a smooth and efficient exchange process. They handled the transaction diligently and professionally and we look forward to working alongside them as co-advisors on future M&A work in the insurance sector."
