

Cripps retains top spot as one of the top performing Kent law firms

Once again, Cripps has been recognised as a leading law firm in the Kent Legal Sector Review 2022.

The review ranks Kent's law firms by specialism, based on their standing in two highly-respected annual legal directories, Chambers & Partners and the Legal 500.

Cripps has retained the top spot for Corporate and Commercial law, with more than double the points of its next competitors.

According to the reviewers, Cripps' strength lies in being ranked by the two source directories in a number of disciplines, including banking and finance; restructuring, insolvency and corporate recovery work; intellectual property; and media, entertainment and sport.

Cripps, based in Tunbridge Wells and London, also ranks first in the Dispute Resolution and Real Estate and Public Sector categories, while preserving its place as Kent's Best Performing Law Firm. The firm ranks 2nd for Private Client and Charities.

"We are delighted to continue to be recognised as the county's leading law firm," says Gavin Tyler, Cripps' managing partner. "Positive client feedback lies at the heart of these rankings, so it's encouraging to see that our people are consistently leaving clients happy and building positive relationships."
