

Hat-trick of accolades for Cripps' private client team

Cripps' private client team are celebrating after receiving a host of accolades from leading sector publications.

The first was awarded to the family team who were recognised as one of the UK's top family law firms by eprivateclient. The guide, now in its sixth year, singles out the UK's leading advisors on issues ranging from pre and post-nuptial agreements to child protection and family governance. It assesses law firms across the country ranking them based on a range of factors.

Also in the family team, partner Simon Donald has been recommended by Spears in its family law index. The index, which is released annually, is collated based on peer nominations, client feedback and interviews. It is considered to be a primary resource for high-net-worth individuals seeking family lawyers.

Lastly, Citywealth has listed Myles McIntosh as one of the UK's top 100 Private Client Lawyers. Recognising how difficult the last 18 months have been, the list identifies private client lawyers who have gone above and beyond for their clients during the pandemic. Myles, who heads up the private client team, was also listed by Citywealth in the top 100 trust litigators list last year.
